Risks You Don't Have to Take

- Be consistent in brand representation
- Provide an easy way for users to respond to your call to action; sign up, donate, like, follow, etc.
- Stay on message no matter the channel of communication
- Be where your constituents are

How & Where to Create an Open Dialogue

Different channels have different capabilities in terms of dialogue

- Email is like a walkie-talkie – one way
- Social Networks are an open party line or conference calls

Leverage these Online Fundraising Best Practices

- Compelling call to action to cultivate and convert constituents into donors
- Test & refine registration programs, list chaperoning, viral campaigns and your boards to build large online email files
- Treat Social Media like you would any other communication or solicitation; use compelling content, test timing of delivery, segment & test, personalize & test and then test that again

 Facebook - Causes

The screenshot shows the Facebook Causes interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with 'facebook', 'Home', 'Profile', 'Friends', 'Info', and 'Log Out'. Below that, a banner for 'GMC' asks 'Who's your go-to for...? We have a better idea.' The main content area features a 'Cause of the Week' for 'Tina Little born a birthday wish' with a 'Make Donation' button. Other sections include 'How Your Friends Are Helping', 'Your Support' (showing $100 raised), and 'Your Featured Cause' (for 'Partners for Deafblind Health').

 Facebook Pages vs Groups

Pages can only be created to represent a real public figure, artist, brand or organization, and may only be created by an official representative of that entity. Pages can be customized with rich media and interactive applications to engage Page visitors. Applications can't be added to groups.

Groups can be created by any user and about any topic, as a space for users to share their opinions and interest in that subject.

- If you don't have time to do it right, when will you have time to do it over?
- Post the right message, at the right time, to the right people
  - Ongoing communication with Members, Fans, Followers are key, but don't overload them
  - Focus on specific actions and desired results
  - Make sure your message suits the audience you're addressing

It's not just about fundraising... it's about creating online communities of interest

- "People give to People", Hank Rosso
  - This holds true no matter what the medium or channel.

This type of fundraising campaign is about 'meeting' new individuals.

- Real world communities are built over time, the same holds true for web based communities
